BIG SONIA

Six days a week, 90-year-old Sonia Warshawski climbs into her oversized Oldsmobile and heads for the only store still open in a decrepit Kansas City shopping mall. Long after Macy's and The Limited were boarded up, John's Tailoring still stands. Sonia, under five feet tall, is herself a survivor—of the Holocaust. Deported from Międzyrzec, Poland at age 13, she lived through Auschwitz and Bergen-Belsen. Now her work at John's helps her to not think about the "dark spot." BIG SONIA is a heartfelt labor of love by her granddaughter Leah Warshawski.

LATIN LOVER

The Cinema Society is proud to celebrate the upcoming San Diego Italian Film Festival with a presentation of the film LATIN LOVER: It's been 10 years since the passing of Saverio Crispo, Italy's most beloved movie star and most prolific ladies' man. He left behind five daughters, each from a different relationship in a different part of the world. To mark the anniversary of his death, mothers and daughters alike gather in his hometown to piece together the puzzle of the man they've known only as an icon. The international cast of LATIN LOVER features Almodóvar actresses, three-time David di Donatello winner Valeria Bruni Tedeschi and the late Virna Lisi in her final screen appearance.
